DETROIT HAS $1,500,000 FIRE! Dock, Six-Story Building and Big Warehouse Burned

Other Smaller Buildings Consumed by Spectacular Early Morning Blaze—Some of Buildings Had Stood For Fifty Years—Three Persons Injured.

Further Obstacles In Path of France Are Seen By Editor

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 28.—Fire starting from an overheated stove in a watchman's shanty early today destroyed the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company dock, housing United States immigration and customs officers, spread to the six story Munger building, which was burned to the ground and then destroyed a four story warehouse and several small buildings on Woodward Avenue and Bates street. When the fire was brought under control a few minutes after five o'clock this morning the total loss was estimated at $1,500,000.

The warehouse of the Flinstor Wald Furniture Company was consumed by the flames, fanned by a brisk easterly breeze. The fire swept section, at the foot of the Woodward avenue was one of the oldest in the city and some of the buildings burned had been standing fifty years. They were as tinder before the flames. Three persons were injured, one probably seriously. Frank Kelley, a fireman, was knocked from a ladder when a hose slipped from the hands of hosemen. He fell 30 feet to the ground. Robert Yates, the watchman, was burned about the face and hands when he attempted to check the fire. Carl Kreslin, another watchman, was overcome by smoke.

Every downtown fire company, made from the outlying sections and three fire boats fought the flames. Two minutes after the fire alarm had been sounded the fire had eaten into the Flinstor Wald building and great flames that lighted up Windsor, across the Detroit river, were shooting skyward. Before the fire company reached the scene the flames had spread to the six-story Munger building, across an alley.

Although three-fourths of the city's fire fighting equipment reached the scene 20 minutes after the first alarm, pouring fifty streams of water into the flames, the fire continued to press northward.

Three floors of the Munger building were occupied by the Flinstor Wald and the furnishings, furniture, fed the flames faster than the firemen could conquer them. On another floor of the Munger block was the factory of the Eaton-Clark Company, dyers and varnish makers and small explosions there hampered the firemen.

The General Sales Company automobile storerooms on Woodward avenue were next in the path of the flames which then spread to the Flinstor Wald Company's four-story warehouse on Bates street, the officers of the Lake Carriers' Association and the Bois Blanc Boat Company. The Schulte Cigar Company on Woodward avenue also was destroyed.

Ferry service between Windsor and Detroit was interrupted for several hours. At 12 o'clock the ferries loaded with passengers coming to work were held in midstream awaiting a place to dock. Later they docked at Griesel's great.

One hundred policemen were required to hold back the thousands of spectators attracted to the scene despite the early hour, by the brilliant light of the flames.

Bandits Stage Daring Hold-Up at Busy Street Corner in the Heart of Seattle

(By The Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 28.—A daring and apparently well planned hold-up on two Bank of California messengers at a street intersection in the heart of Seattle's business district yesterday yielded seven bandits $20,000 worth of negotiable bonds. No trace of the robbers, who were heavily armed, had been found early today.

A motorcycle policeman accompanying the automobile containing the two messengers, who were en route to a postoffice sub station, was manacled to his machine.

FIFTH AUCTION SALE PUT ON TO MEET EMERGENCY

A new precedent was set this morning on the Danville tobacco market when the accumulation of tobacco here for sale resulted in the institution of the fifth sale. This started at 10:20 A.M. in Acree's warehouse and was brought about by mutual consent between the warehousemen and the buyers eager to dispose of all of the offerings on hand before the closing of the market for Thanksgiving this evening. Never before had five sales of tobacco been conducted in different warehouses simultaneously. An observer remarked that Jam H. Wilson bought the first pile of tobacco on the fifth sale. The corporation buyers who participated in the new race for the Danville market included T. A. Fulghum, Imperial Tobacco company; Barnett, Lee, Export Leaf Tobacco company; Rice, Gwynn, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company; Julian Jordan, Liggett and Myers; Thomas Martin, American Tobacco company; T. D. Keen, Southern States Tobacco company; and a number of independent buyers.

When the sales finished yesterday evening with a houseful of tobacco untouched, it became apparent that the leaf then on hand together with the offerings brought in today by wagon, automobile and freight would again overtax the limitations of the auction system and it was decided to make an effort to clear the floor during the day. The fifth sale idea was proposed and accepted without delay. The additional sale made it possible for the Danville men to close with cleared floors and ready to open on Monday morning without any left-over tobacco.

Yesterday was one of the most arduous days on the auction market for several years—that is arduous for the auctioneers, the warehousemen and the buyers. Piedmont warehouse was filled from wall to wall with tobacco and sales began at 9 o'clock and continued until 4 p.m. moments before 5 o'clock with only a 15 minute's interval for dinner. J. E. Vanborough auctioneer for the house was compelled to speed up the sale and the maximum limit was overstepped in practically every warehouse in order to complete the day's work. Auctioneers Curran at Acree's had a hard day, the sale in that large warehouse lasting throughout the entire day.

DIAMOND BROTHERS CONFESS ALL

TOWN TOPICS

A special Thanksgiving service will be held at Third Avenue Christian Church this evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The services will be in charge of Rev. O. A. Quinn, and the public is invited to attend.

John Gravely, of Axton, was at the centre of an interested crowd at planter's warehouse this morning when he drove to town in his two-horse team, leading a mule and a load of tobacco. While the automobile has superseded to a large extent the old-fashioned "prairie schooner" type of tobacco wagon on bringing the crop to market this is said to be the first time that a two-horse buggy has been used in carting the weed to Danville.

Contract has been let to L. E. Flora and Son for the construction of a modern frame dwelling on North Main street for Mrs. Hattie B. Bowles. The building permit was issued today, this indicating that the home will cost $4,500.

Southside firemen were called at 7:25 o'clock this morning on Nov. 18, a residence below the railway on Craghead street, where a frame dwelling occupied by Estelle Branch, colored, and owned by Thomas Chiles, colored, was badly damaged by fire. The blaze started in a room on the upper story from a stove and the top part of the house was well alight when firemen arrived. The structure was not destroyed but was rendered untenable.

Another newspaper says that London and Paris have reached an agreement on most of the points involved in the tangier question but that Madrid is hesitating. This attitude on the part of Spain, the newspaper observes, seems to have been accentuated since the interviews between Prime Rivera and Mussolini in Rome.

Coolidge Puts Finishing Touch On His Message

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—President Coolidge put the finishing touches on his message to Congress today and the document was sent to the printer.

The message is comparatively brief, while House attaches declaring it to be shorter than the average length of those sent to Congress by Presidents Wilson and Harding.

The president has told visitors that he framed the message with a view to presenting explicit recommendations rather than arguments and disquisitions. His desire, he has said, is to impress Congress with the soundness of the recommendations with sufficient force to render arguments unnecessary.

Postmaster Lumpkin has opened another window for the sale of stamps in the postoffice during the evening rush hours. The window is that formerly used for the issuance of money orders. The assistant postmaster called attention to the innovation today stating that congestion at the regular window would be greatly relieved by the public if they would observe the sign and patronize the emergency window to a greater extent.

City Fire Chief Lewis F. Mitchell has purchased the recent home of City Health Officer R. W. Garnett on Virginia avenue the deed to be entered on the books of the clerk of the court on Monday. The contract has been signed, however, and Mr. Mitchell will probably move from his present home on Ridge street to Virginia avenue within a short time. Dr. Garnett has purchased a home near Mt. Hermon church on the Franklin pike, which is now being modernized and enlarged.

Edward P. Farley, chairman of the Shipping Board, who has just returned from Europe, had an engagement with the president today regarding recommendations with respect to merchant marine. Inasmuch as the message is completed the conference will not alter recommendations already made. It was said at the White House that the merchant marine proposals previously had received the approval of Mr. Farley.

No Blame For Wreck Placed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Interstate Commerce Commission safety inspectors who investigated the Bunting Railroad wreck at Lockett, Wyoming, September 27, reported today that no evidence of defective train equipment had appeared in the wreckage. Twenty-one bodies were recovered from the creek into which the train dropped and ten persons still listed as missing.

The inspectors decided that the accident was either to the bridge being washed away by high water or being so weakened as to cause collapse under the weight of the train.

Patrick Negress Slain Following Revolver Duel

(Special to The Bee)

STUART, Va., Nov. 28.—Della Wallace, a negro, is dead. Pete Walls, a negro, is wounded and Charlie Walls and Dan Downs are in jail here for grand jury action after narrowly escaping in a "free-for-all" pistol fight which took place at the road camp near Spoon Creek. Della Wallace is said to have been interrupted when he described himself as a drunkard and handcuffed the motorcycle policeman to his machine. A fifth prevented a pedestrian at the curb from giving aid. Two other members of the gang were seen in the automobile. When the first pair darted back into their automobile with the saucers, the handiwork who were on foot escaped through the crowd.

A small automobile blocked the path of messengers car at Jackson street and Second avenue, a crowded intersection and two men leaped out, covered the bank messengers with pistols and snatched two saucers containing the bonds and checks. Two other men stopped out from the sidewalk and handcuffed the motorcycle policeman to his machine. A fifth prevented a pedestrian at the curb from giving aid. Two other members of the gang were seen in the automobile. When the first pair darted back into their automobile with the saucers, the handiwork who were on foot escaped through the crowd.

TOMB DATING FROM CHRIST'S TIME IS FOUND

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 28.—An undisturbed tomb dating from the time of Christ was recently discovered in the Valley of Kidron, near Jerusalem, according to reports received from Dr. W. F. Albright, director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem. Dr. Moran Montgomery, president of the school, announced today.

"The tomb contained more than a score of ossuaries," Dr. Albright wrote. "A dozen of these bore the names and genealogies of the occupants. All the bones apparently belonged to individuals who flourished about the time of Christ. The slowly increasing number of such inscription groups is already beginning to provide me with valuable material for the Nomenclature and eventually for the history of the New Testament period."

Dr. Albright also reported the finding of a sarcophagus said to be the finest yet unearthed in Palestine.

Conley Gets 30 Years For Slaying His Young Bride

(By The Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 28.—Fred C. Conley broke down and wept like a child in jail today when Mrs. Emily C. Owens, mother of his bride whom he killed with a butcher knife, told him she would forgive him if he would be a good boy. He wept but said not a word.

Conley, who had appeared calm and unconcerned throughout the trial, which ended yesterday, also wept when his father, H. W. Conley, of Sheffie d, Alabama, said goodbye.

(By The Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 28.—Only one question remained undecided today in the case of Fred C. Conley, convicted of the murder of his wife. This question was whether or not an effort should be made to appeal the case to a new trial. Conley was found guilty of murder in the first degree yesterday and given three years in the penitentiary.

H. W. Conley of Sheffield, Alabama, father of the convicted man, was in conference today with Ernest S. Merrill, counsel for the defense, and it was said that a decision on the question of an appeal would be reached this afternoon. Motion to set aside the verdict was not made last night, but Mr. Merrill reserved the right to make this motion later.

Woman Tennis Professional Is Now Employed

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Miss Florence Sutton, of Los Angeles, sister of Mrs. May Sutton Gunday, former national woman's tennis champion, has been employed as a tennis professional by the Women's National Golf and Tennis Club, to be opened at Glenhead, L. I. in April. Miss Sutton will be the first woman tennis professional in the East. Her duties will begin June 15. The club is considering the appointment of a woman golf professional also.

Schoolboard Gives Public Facts On School Fire Risk

Formal Reply to Fire Commissioners Is Conciliatory But Calls Attention to Lack of Funds to Make Principal Improvements.

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Katherine Malm, sought by the police since her husband, Otto Malm, confessed last week that he had shot Edward Lehman, a watchman, killed when he interrupted a burglary of a knit goods factory, walked into a police station last night and surrendered. She had fled to Indianapolis when her husband was arrested, she told police, and returned last night, going directly from the train to the police station.

Detectors said she corroborated her husband's alleged confession of the killing but asserted that she had no weapon at the time.

Malm's alleged confession freed Walter Bockelman, indicted for killing after Ethel Beck, who said he was an accomplice, told the police. Bockelman had shot Lehman.

Mrs. H. A. Perkinson and Miss Olivia Perkinson will leave this evening to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. L. C. Clarke, of Richmond, Va.

Check Flasher Flees Several Merchants and Leaves the City

(By The Associated Press)

Operations of a shrewd check-fraudster in Danville came to light yesterday when it was learned that at least four concerns here had been made the victim of receiving forged checks. There are probably others. The man is known to have left town last Sunday afternoon, going South. His name was learned as J. C. Burg and that town or had completely changed his wearing apparel, presenting a different appearance to the Danville police from the description given when he left here.

The police department was at once notified and a message was sent to Heidelberg for the police to take the man off the train. Although a thorough search was reported by the Heidelberg police they could not locate the man sought. He had either gotten off the train between Danville and that town or had completely changed his wearing apparel, presenting a different appearance to the Heidelberg police from the description given when he left here.

Seven More Arrests

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Seven additional arrests of men suspected of participating in the slaying and robbery of two Brooklyn bank messengers November 14, were made today. Six were taken in a raid on an apartment in the Bronx, while Anthony Pantano, accused of being the "tip off" man for the gunmen was arrested at his Brooklyn home. Barlow and Joseph Diamond brothers, also in custody charged with murder and robbery.

The Bronx apartment where the five men were taken was a bandit rendezvous and it was there that the man who instigated the Brooklyn robbery and slaying called his aides for conferences, the police said. They would not state whether the plotter of the crime was among those now in custody.

Pantano, the police said, had admitted to them that he furnished the information which led to the robbery and slaying. He was alleged to have told the police that gunmen by threatening him had learned from him the approximate time the messengers left the bank and the route they would follow. He denied that he was implicated in the actual commission of the crime and that he had shared in the loot.

Ben Temple, an old Danville boy, now of Florida, where he is successfully engaged in the real estate business, is expected home tonight to spend Thanksgiving with his parents Mr. and Mrs. George G. Temple.

Deny Firing Shots But Give Names Of Slayers, 7 Arrests

Conley Gets 30 Years For Slaying His Young Bride

Six of Suspects Taken in Raid on Bandit Rendezvous While the Other Is Accused of Being Tip-Off Man for Gunmen.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Barlow Morris Diamond, his brother, Joseph, who made a complete confession of their part in the robbery and murder of the two West End Bank messengers in a Brooklyn elevated station November 14, District Attorney Dodd announced today after seven additional arrests had been made.

Both Diamonds denied firing the shots which killed the messengers, from whom $43,000 was stolen, but furnished the names of three gunmen alleged to have done the actual slaying, according to Mr. Dodd, who said that descriptions of the trio had been flashed all over the country.

Mr. Dodd also announced that Anthony Pantano of Brooklyn, one of those arrested this morning had agreed to make a complete confession of his part in the crime, which the district attorney said consisted of robbing the bank and robbing the messengers.

Both Diamonds denied firing the shots which killed the messengers, from whom $43,000 was stolen, but remained when

RAMSEYS WERE NOT BADLY HURT

It was learned last night over long distance telephone that John Ramsey and his daughter, Miss Alice Ramsey, suffered Sunday in an automobile accident on the road between South Boston and Danville, N. C., were rapidly recovering from their hurts and would soon be able to return to their home, 12 miles from South Boston. William Ramsey, a son of John Ramsey, was not hurt in the accident.

No arrests have been made in the case, it was said. Both the Ramseys and the members of the party in the car that ran into the Ramseys' claim the others to be at fault. An investigation will be held as soon as the father and daughter leave the hospital.

It Was a Gay Life For Fake Oil Promoters

THIS IS SMACKOVER ARK WHERE MUCH OIL WAS FOUND AND WHERE FAKE PROMOTERS THRIVED BY CAPITALIZING THIS REPUTATION. THE POOL IN THE FOREGROUND IS COMPOSED OF MUD AND OIL

BY ROY J. GIBBONS
WTWORTH, Nov. 28—Issuance of trade orders, following federal investigation of fake oil schemes, was responsible for the promoters' downfall.

It did many things to the promoters. But first of all it routed them from their skyscraper offices like rats swarming from their holes.

Hundreds of them fled the city and state. Hundreds, who had been operating and had "gotten their piles" prior to merging with larger syndicates, also disappeared.

They Lived High

The life of an oriental potentate was as nothing compared to the ostentatious existence led by the promoters.

One of the high-priced autocrats, he "cleaned up several fortunes" by supplying gaudy cars done to their special orders and run by liveried chauffeurs in uniforms to match the color of the motors.

Bootblacks, bootleggers, waiters, vendors of other things making for luxury, all recite the story of a fulsome burst and gratuities once dispersed with lavish hand coming their way no more.

During the oil boom it was worth a sizable income to be a be-i-hop in one of Ft. Worth's smart hosteries.

Five-dollar bills were not unusual payments for carrying up luggage and ice water.

Incidents such as followed the days of '49, the Klondike rush and the discovery of diamonds in Kimberlite, pale into comparative insignificance by contrast.

Banana Song Muse

A story is told of one promoter who wrote his own ads. When a new batch of literature was needed he secreted himself in a hotel room and started a phonograph.

Equipped with a play-over device, the machine would grind out "Banana songs" without a stop, during which serenade the promoter would weave reams of high-pressure copy.

He no longer in scores of cases on file even went to the pretense of drilling a well for the purpose of "coving up" as a means of demonstrating his "honest intentions" in producing oil.

Drunk with conquest and bulging bank accounts he strolled to the status of his record, his com-what he had done and what he would do "positive" do.

He no longer promised rivers of oil. He said he already had such rivers. But as the fable runs, the rivers turned out to be teacups of oil and the investors filled the promised rivers with their tears.

They Lived High

Later on, however, because nothing officially was done to curb him, the promoter grew careless from long immunity and started faking again.

He no longer in scores of cases on file even went to the pretense of drilling a well for the purpose of "coving up" as a means of demonstrating his "honest intentions" in producing oil.

At the outset he kept away from actual misstatements of fact, because such guileless lies are open to prosecution as evidence of intent to defraud.

Banana Song Muse

A story is told of one promoter who wrote his own ads. When a new batch of literature was needed he secreted himself in a hotel room and started a phonograph.

Equipped with a play-over device, the machine would grind out "Banana songs" without a stop, during which serenade the promoter would weave reams of high-pressure copy.

He no longer in scores of cases on file even went to the pretense of drilling a well for the purpose of "coving up" as a means of demonstrating his "honest intentions" in producing oil.

Sen. Johnson Raps Foreign Policy of the Present Gov't.

Also Endorses Soldier Bonus and Plan for Reducing Taxes for Smaller Salaried Class and Suggests Remedies for Farming Ills in Outlining Policy

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Joining issue on national problems with the present federal administration, Senator Hiram Johnson last night placed before the country some of the principles which will form the back-ground for his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Senator Johnson, during the course of his first public utterance since announcing himself a presidential candidate, expressed opposition to the administration's foreign policy, endorsed a soldier's bonus and a plan for reduction of income taxes for the benefit of those with income of $10,000 or less, as well as suggesting remedies for the country's agricultural ills.

Opposition to any policy that would commit America to "undisclosed European adventures" was declared.

"I do not protest against an American policy which does not know what it is and which seeks to discover itself or ride itself by first going into a conference with Europe."

Try To Bring Klan Into Flogging Case

Trial of Parks Cook Charged With Being Member of Gang Which Flogged Widow and Her Escort.

(By The Associated Press.)

MARBLETTA, Ga., Nov. 28.—Efforts of the state to bring the Ku Klux Klan into the Smyrna flogging case featured the morning session to day of the trial of Parks C. Cook, charged with being a member of a gang who is alleged to have flogged Mrs. Bertha Holcombe, a widow, and Stephen H. Morton, her escort.

Solicitor General John Woods' movement was overruled, the court sustaining objections by the defense counsel to the question asked Joe Bramlett, one of the six men indicted and a defense witness as to whether he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The solicitor argued he might be able to show the materiality of his question but the court excluded it "for the time being at least."

Bramlett and the other indicted men, including Kyle Hasty, pitcher of the Philadelphia American League baseball club, his brothers Arthur and Frank Hasty and Tom Black, were the first witness put up by the defense.

Each emphatically denied that they were members of the flogging party.

COOK IS FIRST OF 6 MEN TO GO ON TRIAL

(By The Associated Press.)

HONOLULU, Nov. 28.—With the testimony of Mrs. Bertha Holcombe, young widow of Starrett G. Cook, of Atlanta, on a charge of assault and battery in connection with the alleged flogging of Mrs. Holcombe on the night of November 19, entered its second stage today.

The trial of Cook, the first of six Cook county men to be placed on trial following indictments returned against them, began in circuit court yesterday afternoon. Two indictments were returned against each defendant, charging each on separate counts with assault and battery against Mrs. Holcombe and her escort, S. H. Morton, a traveling salesman of Atlanta. Cook's trial is the first of a series of twelve trials to be held in connection with the alleged flogging episode as the result of the granting of a motion for the severance of the cases made by the state.

The other men to be tried are Kellar Hasty, a member of the pitching staff of the Philadelphia Americans, Frank and Arthur Hasty, his brothers Joe Bramlett and Tom Black, all living in the vicinity of Mrs. Holcombe's home.

Charges that Cook had long sought favor without success and had offered her an automobile if she would go riding with him; that he had wept as his companions prepared to whip her on the night of the alleged flogging and had asked them to spare her and positive identification of Cook as a member of the masked party of seven or eight men she said forcibly.

An Underground Aerial Success

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A radio receiving set equipped with an "underground aerial," invented by Dr. J. Harris Rogers, of Hyattsville, Md., was announced today, picked up messages from London last night on a wave length ranging from 365 to 370 meters.

The new antennae of the coil type were placed about 20 feet down in a well shielded with sheet metal around the outside of the brick work to a depth of 18 feet. The test, which was made last night to take advantage of the international radio broadcasting experiments in progress this week, was conducted in Dr. Rogers' laboratory by his assistants and a number of experts, and in his bedroom, where he is confined by illness.

Council Takes First Step To Secure Motor Aerial Ladder

The first steps towards the acquisition of a $15,000 aerial extension ladder motor drawn for the fire department were taken at a fifteen-minute called meeting of the city council at half-past noon today. The meeting was the third held this month but under the rules none of the members drew the ten dollar fee which is paid for council attendance. No councilman can draw more than $20 for meetings in any one month.

The purpose of the meeting was primarily to secure action on a discrepancy recently made relative to the recently made of land near Nek Design which was ordered purchased some time ago to afford a new cemetery. As represented to the council the tract included six acres for which $25,000 was asked. A survey made at request of Mr. Thomas, however, revealed only 54.37-100 acres. The public works committee felt that a rebate should be made and an effort to adjust the matter resulted in Mr. Thompson declaring that he did not intend to sell the property at so much an acre but as an entire tract. The committee in its report recommended that the same amount of money be paid for the tract, even though smaller than first believed, on the ground that it would cost little to improve it. The council concurred in this belief and the purchasing agent was authorized to execute the contract.

The committee recommended that a motor-drawn aerial ladder be purchased for the fire department at a cost of about $15,000 in order that the present old-fashioned hand-raised horse-drawn apparatus may be retired and thus the last two horses in the city fire department. It was represented to the council that the present truck is dangerous for the firemen called on to operate it and attention was called to the cost of maintaining two fire horses which have outlived their usefulness. This matter was referred to the finance committee for a report at the next meeting and it is understood that the report will be favorable.

On motion of F. W. Towns, the next meeting of the council was set for December 13th instead of Monday, the preceding day on the ground that several members of the council are members of the official boards of charities which usually meet on Monday night. E. Forrest Scales was present today to appeal for a suspension of the fire "franchise district" ordinance so as to be enabled to build a storage house. This was not formally presented as the committee yet has to act on the matter.

School Board Gives Public Facts On School Fire Risk

(Continued from Page One.) That issue will be taken with statements which appear in connection with the improvements at Westmoreland School and on the general subject of a verbal agreement between a member of the fire commission and the schoolboard members.

City Engineer R. K. Linnville, one of the commissioners, pointed out that the report filed by the commission was not in the nature of demands but simply recommendations. He said that if the recommendations were not carried out the police had powers both under city ordinances and the State law to carry out provisions of those laws bearing on dangers in public buildings.

The report as a whole is conceded by many to be the strongest argument yet advanced for the carrying of a school bond issue which would provide money to put the safety of the city schools beyond the peradventure of doubt as well as affording the proper educational facilities in a city of this size.

The report is appended in full.

"The City Council, "Danville, Va.

"Gentlemen:

"This is to acknowledge receipt of your communication dated November 17, 1923 in which you call our attention to some changes in our school buildings which make them safe from danger in case of fire. We have carefully the findings of the Fire Committee, stated in its report to you, a copy of which report we forward.

"The City Council, "Danville, Va.

"Gentlemen:

"We have read with the greatest interest the bonus pledges by the possible heads of the dominant political party constitutes in reality a promise, a solemn pledge "and we must keep faith."

Even with the bonus taxes could be reduced, Senator Johnson said.

Lower freight rates, extension of co-operative marketing and development of waterways were suggested by the senator as aids to agriculture.

Early in his speech the California senator asserted he was not enunciating a platform but many of his hearers expressed belief that statements he made would be incorporated as planks.

"The report is as follows:

"We the chairman, the vice chairman and the superintendent have finished making a careful inspection of all our school buildings. We have noted the conditions mentioned in the report of the Fire Committee of the city, which was made to the council and copies of it sent to the school board superintendent. We are reporting on schools the order reported by the Fire Committee.

"On June 7th, last, Dr. I. C. Harrison submitted a letter from the Fire Committee calling attention to a lack of fire equipment on the High school and the Westmoreland buildings. The letter is as follows:

"(1) We, the committee appointed by the Ordinance of the City of Danville, for the purpose of fire inspection, wish to report to you all that, in our opinion, the high school building on Grove street, is not properly protected as required by the Ordinance, and, it will be necessary that you have the fire equipment on the roof, from the first floor of the south-east side.

"(2) We also inspected the school building for colored on lower Holbrook street and discovered that it is to be very difficult to make an exit. We really do not think that this building should be used at all, but, in event same is used, there will be required two fire escapes—one on each end.

"High School

"As to fire escape recommended by the committee in paragraph 2 above, we wish to state that it was extended onward and when it was nearly completed the superintendant, at the direction of the School Board, went with a member of the Fire Committee to inspect the new arrangement.

"This member of the Fire Committee suggested that in addition to the improvements made in the addition, a door should be made in a room at the top of the newly constructed fire escape. This was provided at once. In the report sent to us about Nov. 17th, it is suggested that the Ordinance of the City of Danville, for the purpose of fire inspection, wish to report to you all that:

Thanksgiving at Wesley House. The boys and girls of Wesley House Community school enjoyed the day by the students of Randolph-Macon Institute which was given Tuesday morning in the assembly hall. A program of vocal and instrumental music and several readings were given after which the children were treated to bags of candy and fruit. Those present were the girls of the sewing classes and the boys of the Junior Boys' club.

About sixty pupils were present with the head resident, Miss Sue Cole; club director, Miss Virginia Hicks; kindergarten director, Miss Sara Ryer; and her assistant, Miss Jane Flor; and Miss Anna McCauley, R.N., public health nurse.

The following students from R. M. I. took part in the program: Miss Alice Johnson, president of R. M. I. Young Woman's Christian Association, who conducted the program; Miss Maxine Layne, soloist, with Miss Sally Cowell, piano accompanist; Miss Kathleen Collins gave two delightful readings and Miss Emily Woodard rendered a violin solo; Miss Catherine Harwell, accompanist; Miss Elizabeth Owens gave a piano solo. Others assisting were: Miss Jessie Wood, Miss Hazel Malcolm, Miss Mary Watson and Miss Lydia Eskridge.

Misses Georgia Blair, Martha Kelly and Mrs. Johnson of the school faculty accompanied the young ladies.

On Tuesday evening the community boys, formerly members of the Senior Boy's club, who are members of Mrs. W. J. Young's church school class at Siedel-Memorial church, held their annual banquet in the assembly hall at Wesley Community House. The long table, with covers laid for forty, was decorated with flowers and candies and a centerpiece of unique design, being a miniature Puritan church building surrounded by small evergreen trees placed to simulate a forest. An excellent turkey dinner was served.

This morning the children of the kindergarten had a party at 9:30 o'clock when all the little folks of the community played games and sang songs and bought gifts of fruits and groceries which this afternoon were distributed by the teachers to the sick in the neighborhood.

Bellevue School. An elaborate Thanksgiving program was given by the teachers and children of Bellevue school today, every room having songs and recitations appropriate to the season. The children brought quantities of fruits, groceries and candies to fill baskets which will be distributed this afternoon to the sick and those otherwise in need. Miss Georgia Wilson, school nurse, and her assistant, Miss Watson, will superintend the distribution of the baskets.

Seven of the teachers will attend the State Teachers Annual Association which meets in Richmond during the holidays. Misses Dandridge Ragland, Ina Clement, Olivia Perkins, Lottie Ferrell, Lynwood Pollio, Hazel Tyree, Jessie Vaden.

Dixie W. Owen, president of National Memorial Association, will speak at the school today on the subject, "Clara Barton, Who Is She?"

Attending Teacher's Association. F. H. Wheatley, superintendent of Rison Park school; S. E. Hall, principal of Danville High School; Miss Helen Robertson, school nurse; Geo. Heubl, physical director of schools; Miss Ruby Redd, delegate from the primary department; Miss Angie Sommomes, delegate from the grammar grades; Miss Stella Hubbard, delegate from Danville High School; Miss May Raxland, Miss Jessie Bryant, Miss Catherine Strickland, Miss Margaret Doggett, Miss Dandridge Ragland, Mrs. Archibald D. Keen, chairman of the school board and A. C. Conway are all attending the association meeting in Richmond.

Wedding Party Entertained.

The out-of-town guests attending the wedding of Miss Alice Rosenstock and Emanuel Hess which takes place tonight at Beth Sholem Synagogue, were delightfully entertained today by Mrs. Julius Kaufman, Mrs. Louis Kaufman and Mrs. Herbert Hoffman at a luncheon given at the Country Club. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hess, parents of the groom; Mrs. William Marcus, Mr. S. Stroose, Mr. Charles Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cann, Mr. Lewis Hess, all of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Carrie Rosenbacher, Aladdin Rosenbacher, Otto Rosenbacher, Sandel Rosenbacher, Henry Rose, all of Winston-Salem, N.C.; Dr. William Rosenbacher, of Baltimore, Md.; Messrs. I. Rosenstock and Edwin Rosenstock, father and brother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Julius Kaufman, Mrs. Louis Kaufman, and Mrs. Herbert Hoffman.

The out-of-town guests were entertained at dinner Tuesday evening at the Burton.

Library Notes.

To those who would avoid that season of depression which usually follows the festivities and feasting of Thanksgiving and Christmas the Danville Library offers several books of timely instruction in choosing what to eat and how much.

Perhaps the most entertaining book of the lot is "Diet and Health With Key to the Cabinet" by Lucy Hunt Peters, A. M. M. D. This little book will tell how to eat well and almost burn off the extra weight of the fact that we are strong and strong in structure in how to attain normal weight and how to keep it.

"How to Live Quietly" by Annie Pearson Carl, author of "Power Through Repose," "The Freedom of Life" and "Nerves and Common Sense" falls naturally into this group although it does not deal directly with diet, but rather leads to the general trend of thought in regard to individual welfare. The slogan of the book is "Look to Ourselves."

It points the way to complete freedom, that state of being sought by every one and contains valuable suggestions for bringing about world peace.

"Girth Control" is one of the newest books and one in which many are interested because it contains the very latest deductions from the foremost authorities on how to attain beauty, strength, health and long life by a new method of reducing weight which calls for no self-denial, but allows one to eat anything and as much as one likes, while enjoying meals more than before. There is a chapter on "worry," "outdoor sports," "sleep," "what to drink and what not to drink," and some valuable information about the five million tons of sugar consumed yearly in "deadly sweets," "chocolate," "honey and molasses" and how to have a gorgeous time without going to the dentist.

There are other books in the library dealing with the important topic of "feeding the family," that subject ever in the mind of the housekeeper. These books will appeal especially to the mothers of school children who are interested in the instruction recently given before the parents and teachers of the city schools by Miss Ethel Perin and Miss Grace Brinton, representatives of the American Child Health association.

Beauty Contest.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Haydon gave a party at their home near Kentuck at which a number of young people were present. Delightful refreshments were served and prizes were given after a lively contest for deciding on the prettiest girl and the ugliest man present. Miss Mae Milam won the girl's prize and Lucy Compton the men's prize. Miss Beulah Brown was also given a prize for the best bound of butter.

Honor Roll of Ringgold School. Grades six and seven—John Wiles, Pansy Wiles, Louise Neal, Minnie Morris, Louise Henderson.

Grades two and three—Eunice Mason, Elizabeth Walker, Mason Griffin, Lena Brumfield, Francis May, Herbert Ferrell, Noel Wilson, James Lindsey, Herman Ferguson.

Brilliant Reception.

A beautiful social function was the reception yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Perkins, Main street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. Randolph Perkins, Jr., who were recently returned from White Sulphur Springs where they spent a part of their honeymoon. Many prominent society people were invited to meet Mrs. Perkins in the afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock and at 6:30 o'clock Mr. Perkins and his groomsmen were entertained.

The lower floor was decorated throughout in pink; silver vases filled with handsome pink chrysanthemums were everywhere, while in the dining-room the beautiful table had a large silver basket filled with pink roses and snapdragons surrounded with pink candles. Silver dishes had pink candles and salted almonds. Soft shaded lamps and glowing candles were placed among the flowers about the room, making the whole a scene of loveliness.

Receiving at the door were: Mrs. John Duglinson and Mrs. E. Walker Brown, who introduced the guests to the hostess. Mrs. J. E. Perkins, who was gowned in black velvet with corsage of violets, received in the living room with Mrs. T. R. Perkins, mother of the groom, in handsome black satin. Mrs. T. R. Perkins, Jr., wearing her wedding gown of ivory satin and lace, and Mrs. John Dillard Watt, of Reidsville, N. C., also wearing her wedding gown of soft white crepe and satin with corsage of pink roses. Assisting in the living room were Mrs. Warner Moore, Jr., of Richmond, Mrs. John Schellfield, Jr., Mrs. John E. Overby, Mrs. John Dillard Spencer, and Mrs. Louis N. Dibble, Mrs. W. V. Williamson and Mrs. John Swanson invited the guests into the dining room, where Mrs. Herbert Martin was assisted by Mrs. H. R. Fitzgerald and Mrs. R. Bruce James, who poured tea, and Misses Elizabeth Martin, Mary Ivey, Mary Spencer, Claudia Lewis, Helen Cook, and Mrs. Robert Harper, who served a salad course.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Archibald D. Keen and Mrs. Rucker Penn, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Martin and Miss Margaret Richardson, of Reidsville, N. C. At half past six o'clock a delightful buffet supper was served to T. Randolph Perkins, Jr., and his groomsmen and other friends.

Among those present were: J. E. Perkins, the host; T. Randolph Perkins, Jr., Bland Perkins, Thomas Gray, Fred Holtzman, Dan Overby, Robert Harper, Buck Conway, James Hamlin, Wayles Harrison, Judge E. Walton Brown, John D. Watt, T. R. Perkins, Sr., W. W. Williamson, John Swanson, Herbert Martin, H. R. Fitzgerald, Rucker Penn, Archibald D. Keen, L. N. Dibble, Dr. Bruce James, and John Schoolfield, Jr.

Beautiful Luncheon.

Miss Alice Rosenstock was the guest of honor at a lovely bridge luncheon yesterday morning when Miss Elizabeth Penn and Miss Mayzie Wills Penn gave the bridge-luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rucker Penn, Main street. Lovely yellow and white chrysanthemums in profusion, tally cards, favors and bonbons in a color scheme of yellow and white were effectively used in carrying out a decorative scheme that gave the affair an air of exquisite daintiness appropriately honoring the bride-elect.

These playing at the five tables were: Miss Rosenstock, the guest of honor, and Mrs. Charles Cahn, of Baltimore, who is to be matron-of-honor at the wedding this evening; Mrs. Louis Kaufman, Mrs. Anna Smith Cunningham, Misses Elizabeth Guerrant, Elizabeth Taylor, Martha Andrew, Madeline Carter, of Chatham, and Madames Robert Murray, Eugene Neel, John D. Watt, Miles Puryear, T. Randolph Perkins, Edwin Meade, Kere A. James, Jr., Henry Leigh.

After the game handsome prizes were given. The guest of honor was presented a pair of engraved silver candlesticks, and Miss Brantley Carter was given a rose quill pen, the visitor's prize. Miss Eleanor Guerrant, who was high score player, which was a fine hand-painted vase. Mrs. I. Rosenstock and her sister, Mrs. C. Rosenstock, of Winston-Salem, N.C., Mrs. Walter Wadell, Miss Jenny Linn Bass and Miss Lucille Harrison came in after the game when a delightful three-course luncheon was served.

Social Calendar.

The Wednesday Club meeting will be held at the club room this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The program will be in charge of the Art and Literature circle, Miss McMillan, chairman.

Mrs. Harrison Robertson will discuss "Phases of Opera Development." Mrs. Robertson will be assisted by Mrs. Fussell, vocal teacher at Randolph-Macon Institute. Mrs. Edwin Meade, companion Sam Sours, of Westbrook Concert Company, will give a number of selections from well known operas.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Epiphany church will give a picture-benefit at the Broadway theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, 5th and 6th. "The Three Wise Fools" will be played by an all-star cast.

GIRLS, STAY OUT OF BIG CITY

By MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Wait a minute! Think twice, young lady, or even three times, before you finish packing the suitcase and hatbag and start for New York to make your way in the business world.

Things aren't what they used to be in the Big Town.

Girls who turn their backs on Main street, leave the home cooking and the fresh-laid eggs to the folks back home and establish themselves in a hall bedroom without cooking privileges in New York have a rude awakening before them when they learn they have got to achieve that crowning glory of the modern young woman—economic independence.

"Girls in New York who do not get beyond a $1500 or $1800 salary are fairly certain to become an economic burden to their friends or relatives in time," says Olive Van Horn, director of the Industrial department of the National Y. W. C. A.

"I am speaking," she goes on, "of the woman in business, rather than of those in industry, where social demands on the matter of clothes and living are less exciting. Costly Demands

"There are two good reasons why New York women on small salaries find it impossible to save. First, the cost of food, and second that of shelter. These two items nearly exhaust her budget if she is in the $1500 group."

The budgets for working women put out by the Federal Reserve Board and various minimum wage commissions cannot be applied to working women.

"You cannot rent the smallest room that is anyway adequate for less than $10 a week," she continues. "In Brooklyn she may find one for eight or nine dollars, but usually that necessitates a longer and more exhaustive ride to and from work. This means that with her food, which she cannot bring down to less than $10 or $11 a week, she is paying out nearly $1100 for living alone."

"With so much spent for food and rent, $270, the usual 18 per cent allows 27¢ budgets for clothes, a sum which obviously cannot meet replacements in a wardrobe at present prices which are of several years, and $90 or six per cent for upkeep, which must take care of laundry, pressing, shoe shins and general wear and tear, the girl on the $1500 salary has just $60 left for transportation, vacation, amusement, dentist, charities, Christmas gifts, and the other perquisites of civilized life."

Nothing to Save
"What can she possibly not toward a saving account?"

"This is a challenge to our proud boast of independence. It is a situation that should honestly be faced by business women today."

"Are we, the majority of us, paying the way, or are we, after all, more of an economic liability than an asset? How did this situation come about and how can it be met, are questions that demand an immediate answer from those who have the welfare of the business woman at heart?"

"Any girl coming to New York to work should at least know the situation before she comes," Miss Van Horn concludes.

THANKSGIVING WILL BE QUIETLY OBSERVED HERE

Thanksgiving will be observed quietly in Danville tomorrow as a general holiday with many of the local mercantile establishments closed for the day, or until a day and a general suspension of business by the professional interests in town. There is no local event of outstanding importance arranged in an athletic way and it is anticipated that many people will motor to Chapel Hill to witness the Virginia-Carolina gridiron classic. Others motorizing to Roanoke in order to witness the Virginia Military Institute struggle with Virginia Polytechnic.

The Bee today was in touch with the state highway commission offices of Richmond and Raleigh in order to secure authentic information for its readers on the condition of the roads both Chapel Hill and Roanoke. The route to the former place is uniformly good, an improved road running all the way, if the Roxboro, N. C. route is followed.

The reporter was referred by J. J. Forrer of the Virginia Highway Commission to S. Parrish, resident engineer at Martinsville, for the actual condition of the road to Roanoke for the day, or until a day and a general suspension of business by the professional interests in town. There is no local event of outstanding importance arranged in an athletic way and it is anticipated that many people will motor to Chapel Hill to witness the Virginia-Carolina gridiron classic. Others motorizing to Roanoke in order to witness the Virginia Military Institute struggle with Virginia Polytechnic.

The real spirit of Thanksgiving will play an important part in the local celebration of the day and devotional services will be held for the purpose of expressing gratitude and thanks for past mercies. A union service will be held at the Jefferson Avenue church of Christ on Jefferson street where Rev. Joseph Dunglison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will preach a Thanksgiving sermon. The programme to be rendered at this 10:30 o'clock service is as follows:

Organ Prelude

MISSING DAUGHTER OF JUDGE FOUND FLOATING IN OHIO RIVER, A SUICIDE

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 28.—Miss Margaret Dearth, 22, who disappeared from the home of her parents, Judge Clarence W. and Mrs. Dearth, in Nuncio, Indiana, November 1 and whose body was found floating in the Ohio river here yesterday, committed suicide, in the opinion of officials here. Discovery of the floating body by W. B. Daugherty, steamboat captain, brought to an end a search for the missing girl that had extended to parts of the country.

Due to the length of time the body had been in the water difficulty was encountered in establishing identification, but this was accomplished through comparison of numbers on a wrist watch found on the body with those given in descriptions of the girl which had been broadcast.

Coroner Roy Carter, who viewed the body, said what appeared to have been wounds on the head and face apparently were caused by hitting the corpus against rocks or driftwood in the water. There also was a possibility it was pointed out that the body had been struck by a passing boat.

News dispatches from Nuncio stated that Miss Dearth had been suffering from a great mental strain at the time of her disappearance. She previously had voiced an intention to go to some other city and end her life after removing all marks of identification in order to spare her parents, according to circulars distributed during the search for her.

The above recall the appearance in The Bee recently of an article stating

Problems in House and Senate Are No Nearer a Solution

Situation Remains Same Despite Conferences of Republican Leaders and Also Meetings by Progressive Bloc Members.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Despite continuing conferences of Republican leaders on the one hand and members of the Progressive bloc on the other against nothing in both the Senate and House apparently were no nearer solution today than they had been for some weeks.

Expectations of the majority leaders in the Senate that Senator Cummins of Iowa, would voluntarily give up one of his two places in the Senate were upset by a decision of the senator to leave to his colleagues whether he shall continue as president pro tem and chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and other Republican leaders indicated their belief that Mr. Cummins would continue as president pro tem and that the selection of a candidate for that office would not even come before the Republican conference Saturday. Under a custom long obtaining in the Senate he automatically would be reappointed to the committee chairmanship.

There has been strong sentiment, however, both among organization Republicans and the Progressive bloc that the Iowa senator should not retain both places that it would not be surprising if a gift should be made to prevent him from doing so. The Progressive bloc has hoped that he would retire from the chairmanship of the committee on which Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, is the ranking member, and on the other hand leaders of the regular organization have desired that he continue as chairman.

House Progressives are working out details of their legislative and organization program, committee charged with this duty expects to have its draft prepared for presentation to a meeting of the entire group Friday morning.

A committee was designated yesterday to hold itself in readiness to confer with Republican leaders regarding modification of House rules and assignments to committees, but thus far no conferences have been had. Members of the bloc have indicated their intention of seeking to block the reelection of Representative Gillett, of Massachusetts as speaker if concessions are not granted them.

RAIDS—3500 OF 'EM HAVE KEPT IZZY VERY BUSY

(Special to The Bee)
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—You called for a "shot" and you got it. And no questions asked! either. Scotch, Canadian, port, sherry, Gordon gin or old lager—all were dispensed freely over 2500-odd bars. Those were the "good old days," when New Orleans was one big oasis in the vast American desert, when folks called it the "wettest city." But "them days" are gone—since Izzy Einstein breezed in.

For Izzy is making good his promise to "dry up New Orleans by Christmas."

Sixty-Five in a Day.

And Izzy today told how he's been doing it ever since he signed up with the prohibition enforcement department three years ago.

He has engineered something over 3500 raids in those three years, raids in which nearly 4,000,000 quarts of illicit liquor, worth between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000, have been confiscated by Uncle Sam.

"My best day's work," says Izzy, "was done in Brooklyn. Between dawn and dusk, we 'pulled' 65 places.

"The biggest single haul was 2000 cases of bonded whisky and 368 barrels of brandy. That was in a garage in New York. I had worked there two weeks as a drunkard glad to get a job washing automobiles."

Izzy was born in Austria. He came to America when he was 20, with "just enough money to get past immigration inspection."

IZZY'S Helper.

"My first job," he declares, "was clerking in a florist's shop. But you can't eat orchids. So I went to work in a delicatessen. That's where I got this figure. (He tips the scales at a little above the 200 mark.)

"In 1917 I became clerk in the main postoffice in New York. Three years later I sought and obtained a transfer to the prohibition department as a field agent. Then things started."

"How do I do it? Oh, that's simple. I register at a hotel under a 'phony' name.

"I get out in overalls and rustle rough jobs. I work in restaurants, garages or on the wharves. I drive a truck. I'm a business man looking for some new line to invest in. I've lettered my introduction from chambers of commerce, business men, and go into their clubs.

Runs Booze Cargo.

"I've been a night-hawk chauffeur. I've even had a job as a door-guard at a place I hadn't been able to get the doorman on before. I play the slide-trombone, and it got me an orchestra job in a big hall in Brooklyn that we raided a day or two later.

"At night I put on tuxedo or evening clothes, hire a taxi and blow into the cabarets, restaurants and night clubs. Sometimes I'm a retired brewer.

"Got the Drink.

"'You're a good one,' I laughed.

(ABOVE) IZZY'S NOSE KNOWS. AND IT'S WINE, HE SAYS. (BELOW) A PART OF ONE OF HIS HAULS.

"Now will you give a revenue agent a drink?" He laughed, too.

"Sure, I will," he says. And he did. Then I pinched him.

"It's all there to get, if a fellow goes out to get it. It's just a lazy or a crooked prohibition agent that can't show results these days.

"'Yep,' concludes Izzy, "it's all there to get. And I'm getting it."

And the boys in the clubs and out in Bucktown and through the Tango Belt agree he's doing a good job when it comes to getting it.

HUNGER RIOT IS FAILURE; STAGED NEAR OLD PALACE

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Only two concrete developments regarding organization of the House and Senate came out of various conferences today at the Capitol.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, agreed to leave to Republican leaders decision as to whether he shall retain both or either of his present places as president pro tem of the Senate and chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee.

House Progressives appointed a committee to confer with Republican organization leaders regarding modification of House rules and committee assignments. It was disclosed, however, that this committee would not take the initiative in any possible negotiations with the leaders.

Senator Cummins' decision upset expectations of the majority leaders that he would voluntarily give up the place of president pro tem and retain the committee chairmanship. Some of the leaders, among them Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, said the question of selecting a candidate for president pro tem probably would not even come before the Republican conference to be held Saturday.

Under the resolution of the Senate which accompanied his election, the Iowa senator holds the office of president pro tem at the pleasure of the Senate. Some parliamentarians contend that since the Senate is a continuing body re-election of the president pro tem is not necessary. They point to several precedents to support their argument.

Senator Cummins was elected in 1919 when the Republicans regained control of the Senate and was re-elected when the Senate-Sugar Committee was organized in 1921. Pointing to this re-election some senators argue that an election will be in order. Others say that whether it is or not an election can be held on a vote of the Senate in support of a motion offered by any senator. Senate Progressives are opposed to Senator Cummins holding both of his places, but they have not yet formally discussed among themselves a possible course of action as a result of the decision of the Iowa senator. They have told him that they would support him for the office of president pro tem, but this was conditioned on some of the Progressives say, on his relinquishing his committee chairmanship. Whether they will make a fight against his re-appointment as chairman remains to be developed.

House and Senate organization was discussed with President Coolidge by Senator Lodge early today. Immediately upon returning to the Capitol the senator called into conference his chief lieutenants and later he and Senator Moses of New Hampshire conferred with Senator Cummins to get his views.

The Iowa senator said afterwards that he had nothing to relinquish; that he was president pro tem at the pleasure of the Senate and that it was for the majority to decide whether he should continue in that office. His position also is that the committee chairmanship likewise is in question for the Senate.

While the conferences were proceeding Senator Jones, Republican of Oregon, issued a formal statement urging the Republicans to get together on both organization and legislation.

Senator Jones declared in favor of tax reduction, the soldiers' bonus, assistance for agriculture, the remedying of defects in existing transportation laws and the enactment of legislation to aid the American Merchant Marine.

"If I can relieve the small income man I want to do it," he said. "I am not so concerned about the other men. Some taxes paid directly by the men or enterprises of large income are passed on to the ultimate consumer. If such taxes can be reduced so the consumer will get the benefit I want to reduce. This will not only aid business but will also relieve the people generally."

"As I go across the country it looks to me as if everybody takes about the tax relief will bear and not much account is taken of any federal tax. I don't want the tax on capital and business so high that it will drive capital out of industry and put it in unproductive lines, nor do I want to relieve capital in a way that will simply add to its income with no benefit to the general public."

HORSE SHOW PROVES STIMULUS TO BUSINESS

By DICE SMITH

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27.—The recent American Royal stock and horse show here has proved a great stimulus to our downtown shoppers. Big throngs of out-of-town shoppers have surged into the shops and all lines of business have prospered. Perhaps the largest increase in sales was shown in lines useful for the farmer. This was reflected in heavy orders for farm machinery, manufactured feed stuffs for livestock and poultry and a large turnover of pure bred cattle for breeding purposes.

REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE IS BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

(By The Associated Press.)

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 27.—When the regional conference of Republican leaders, called by Chairman John T. Adams of the National Committee, came to a close here today there seemed to be a general feeling among the representatives of the five participating states that a better understanding had been reached with respect to the aims and methods of the National Committee and its plan for organizing the country in anticipation of the presidential campaign next year. One of the most pronounced made to the conference was that C. H. Houston, of Tennessee, in charge of finances of the National Committee, that the deficit of $1,800,000 incurred in the 1920 campaign had been entirely met so that every dollar contributed from now on can be devoted to future work instead of to meeting past obligations.

The Receiver Off the Hook

When a telephone user fails to replace the receiver on the hook a serious interruption to the service results. In such cases incoming calls cannot be completed, and the operator is compelled to report the line "out of order."

On party lines, if the receiver is not replaced at any one of the stations, not only is that telephone affected, but none of the other telephones on the line can either make or receive calls. Thus an entire line is put out of service, until the receiver of one telephone is replaced.

Sometimes the receiver is accidentally permitted to rest upon a book, or some object which prevents the hook from coming all the way down. When this occurs it produces the same effect as if the receiver were not replaced.

In cases of this sort a repair man must be sent to inspect the telephone. Some little time must therefore elapse before the receiver is replaced, and during this interval calls of great importance may be lost to the subscriber.

WAKE FOREST PREPARES FOR S. CAROLINA

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Nov. 27.—Undisputed holders of second honors in the state by virtue of the decisive victory over Hartsville's Wolfpack on Saturday, Wake Forest football players today began preparing for their Turkey Day game with South Carolina in Columbia. The game will end the season for Garrity's Demon Deacons.

Saturday's decisive victory over N. C. State gave Wake Forest her fifth victory in seven contests. Only Carolina and Florida have taken the measure of the Deacons. The Carolina game opened the season and in the Florida game, Garrity's men put up an exhibition that won south-wide recognition. Guilford, then Lynchburg, Davidson, Trinity, Elon and State have been defeated.

The victory Saturday was the demonstration of the power of discipline and training in football. Garrity sent a machine to the field, while State sent eleven players. The difference of the two teams could be seen even in catching punts or attempting the forward pass. Wake Forest men doing the job with sureness and State doing the job fumblingly.

Garrity's men went into the game in better physical condition than in any game since the Davidson contest and came out in like shape. No injuries of any moment were received in the game. This means that Garrity will be in a position to present his game line-up against the Gamecocks Thursday.

No further scrimmage practice will be held this year, Garrity announced Monday. The practice on the first afternoon consisted in work intended to eradicate the stiffness resulting from the Saturday contest.

Delight News

Some time in the month of April of the present year the body of a still born infant was discovered in an open field where it had been thrown. Inquiry was made and it was found that I had received for burial the body of a still born infant, and despite all the explanations which I could make and in the face of my offer to produce the body I could not convince my one that I had not committed an offence which, if proved should have not only caused me to be imprisoned and fined but should have made me an outcast among men.

After practically four trials and the unearthing of the remains which proved conclusively that I was innocent and that if my first offer to reopen the grave and prove that the infant had been buried instead of being thrown into an old field, had been accepted, the matter would have gained such wide publicity and I should have been vindicated seven months ago, instead of just a few days ago, and then only because the judge insisted that if I had buried the body I should be allowed to show that I had. The grave was opened in presence of six reputable witnesses, one a white undertaker who took from the body the pin of the very cloth in which the family said it was buried and produced it before the court after which nothing more remained to be said: the incident was closed.

I am sorry that the thing happened but I suppose "it's all in the day's work" and as it is over and I have been shown to be absolutely innocent of any offence I shall be content to let the matter rest, I am very grateful to my many friends who so loyally stood by me and assure them that they shall always be remembered, and that at any time that I can be of use to them I hope they will not hesitate to call upon me. As to my enemies, if any there be, I can only say, let the heather rage.

L. H. BROOKS.

The following is taken from an afternoon paper published in this city:

"UNDERTAKER WINS ON NEW EVIDENCE"

"L. H. Brooks, negro undertaker, will not have to pay the fine of $250.00 imposed on him recently. The after-discovered evidence was reviewed today and following the re-opening of a grave in Oak Hill Cemetery, it was learned that two infants alleged not to have been buried were found and identified sufficiently to warrant the setting aside of the verdict and the entering of a nolle prosequi."

Joe Turner and Pinky Gardner, both world famous wrestlers, the former middle weight champion, the latter a rear champion, will meet Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Mutual Auditorium in a finish match. This bout will be the first of a series that is being planned by L. C. Moody, who promised so many successful matches last season.

Joe Turner is known throughout the length and breadth of the land as one of the most finished and capable wrestlers. He has held to his championship for 15 years or more and apparently is as good as ever.

Gardner has come into prominence in the past several years and in certain sections of the country is even better known than Turner. Gardner has boxed much in the East, but has also appeared in practically every large southern city.

Promoter Moody stated yesterday that he had secured a three-foot elevated ring, which will mean that those who attend will have much better chance of seeing the match than heretofore when the mat was raised on the floor.

By way of preliminaries Young Crowley, a young negro boxer, will meet local men in a three-round exhibition. There will also be a battle royal and probably other matches.

DEMSEY PLANS BUSY WINTER

NEW YORK Nov. 27—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, will have a busy winter and spring out his activities are more likely to be before the footlights than in the ring. Plans for his campaign are being mapped out by Pack Kearns, the "Schoolboy" manager, who arrived in New York today.

Dempsey declared he was ready to go for a return match with Luis Firpo and also ready to listen to proposals for bouts with Tom Gubens, St. Paul light-heavyweight, or Jack Renault, Canadian contender. But said he was more interested now in several stage and exhibition offers

RENTS STABILIZED

BY PRESENT LEVELS

By J. P. YODER

CHICAGO, Nov. 27—Recent surveys in the United States and Canada by the National Association of Real Estate Boards indicate that while rents have increased greatly in both countries for both business and residential properties, they are becoming stabilized at present levels. Single family dwellings are the buildings in most demand. Sixty-eight per cent of the cities included in the survey show a shortage of apartments and flats and forty-three per cent indicates a shortage of business properties.

An example of the enhancement of real estate values in this section is shown by the sale of 560 lots in South Chicago for $2,746,850, which one year ago were purchased for $1,000,000.

is a fine art and we are past masters at it. It is no easy matter to wash and iron those dainty, fluffy, lace things which are so dear to the heart of woman-kind. But we do it to the women's satisfaction, as is evidenced by the large volume of this class of work we have. So much easier to have us do it than do it at home.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Reaction tendencies developed at the opening of today's stock market with profit taking and bear selling apparent in various sections of the list. Pan-American issues closed slightly lower on announcement of new financing. Maxwell A. and Studebaker opened each 1/2 point and Studebaker closed to 49 1/4 and Maxwell B dropped 1 3/4 and Davisson yielded fractionally.

Early selling was most effective in the oils, sugars, chemicals and independent steels. Maxwell Motors A broke 3 points to 47 1/4 and then rallied to 49 1/4. Losses of one or two points also were registered by Tobacco Products A, Cosco, Virginia-Carolina Sugar, and Central Leather pfds. and Sugar. Cast Iron Pipe. All offerings were well absorbed and the market was soon headed upward again. Davisson rallied two points from its earlier loss. A good inquiry also was noted for some of the rails.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Still higher price levels were established in the cotton market here at the opening today because of the continued strength in Liverpool and bullish trade advices from Manchester. First prices were firm at advances of 17 to 35 points, with December selling up to 36.40 and March to 36.10. The market closed above yesterday's closing during the early trading. The opening here was still in full response to the higher cables, the advance in Liverpool being attributed partly to the decline in sterling. Private cables reported heavy trade calling in Liverpool and a busi- business in Manchester.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—Strength of English market conditions carried the price of cotton into new high ground for the season today in the face of the holiday in the American markets tomorrow and an increased disposition on the part of long interests to take down profits. In the first half hour of the session the more active positions gained to 38 points. January contracts trading as high as 35.85. March touched 35.90. The advance was made in a matter of fact way, the ring being almost devoid of excitement.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The most interesting in the financial news this morning is the announcement of Pan-American Petroleum plans with regard to California oil development. The mere fact that it is going to sell twice half millions of bonds, issued by subsidiary, is of little consequence in itself. The amount involved could undoubtedly be secured, in case of necessity, by merely passing the hat around at a directors' meeting. But the real significance, as I see it is this—the company preparing for a wholesale development of its American properties, which are undoubtedly of immense value, and furthermore, a matter of fact way, the ring being almost devoid of excitement.

Commenting on this feature of the electoral campaign, the Daily Mail says that woman, as a new comer in politics, is less susceptible to party ties and tradition than that it seems easy and in most cases is impossible to drag this secret from the women; consequently the canvassers cannot frame anything like a close estimate of the result of the polling on December 6.

The women voters, the observers say, listen readily to the candidates and are found asking questions, but they are far more reserved than the men in expressing their own opinions and show no inclination to pledge themselves to support any party.

Prime Minister Baldwin is going to Glasgow tonight, heard the radicals in their den, but whether his speech will be listened to is doubtful. Many anti-labor speakers are complaining that they cannot have a hearing, especially the Conservatives, where the Conservative element is strong.

Henry Asquith was persistently shouted down last evening in Paisley, a few miles from Glasgow. A body of men calling themselves the anti-parliament "Communist Federation" flourished a Red banner, inscribed "Hail! Bolshevik Russia" and every time Mr. Asquith began to speak a great outcry was raised. Ultimately quiet was restored for a short interval but everything the speaker said was greeted with derisive comments. Attempts to put a resolution were defeated by the up roar and Mr. Asquith was obliged to quit while his opponents booted and sang "The Red Flag."

The premier's eldest son, Oliver Baldwin, who professes Socialist views, made his first platform appearance in Buckingham last evening in support of the labor candidate. Filial scruples did not prevent him from admitting that his father's government had been in office a year and had done nothing but twiddle their fingers, adding that there was nobody in the cabinet to tell the members to get on with their jobs.

This last remark was a particularly sharp slap at the speaker's father for a premier is nominally responsible for keeping members of his cabinet at their duties.

In conclusion, Mr. Baldwin said: "Now the government is talking about protection. The only protection I want is protection against a government like that."

Labor's latest prominent recruit is E. F. Williams, who is Mr. Lloyd George's chief adviser at the Geneva conference and is the British representative on the permanent court of the inter-allied supreme economic council. He is addressing many labor meetings.
